

Course report Introduction to teaching Autumn 2022

Number of registered students: 22

Response frequency: 41%

Brief summary of participants' opinions

The most relevant thing(s) you learned during the whole course:

- Learned how to better organize teaching
- Tips and tricks
- How to activate students

This can be improved according to the students

- Less group discussion and more input from teacher
- More instructions on how to tackle the pre-reading material

Course director's comments on course implementation and result

The participants are overall happy with the course and the general structure. Before the next course starts, I will revisit the reading instructions and see how I can clarify these. I will continue to not take up that much space, as the learning takes place in the discussions. I will adjust the schedule a little to fit in more whole group discussions.
